Chamber delves into retailers' needs, plans

by GLORIA DAVIS

Some of Antioch's businesses, like many all over the country, are suffering because of today's economic crunch. The less sales made by the retail establishments in the village, less tax revenues are realized by the village government.

When the village has less money all Antioch residents suffer because less services can be made available.

Added to this nationwide problem, the village has now been put in the position of losing two of its biggest revenue sources with the closing of the A&P and the burning of the Jewel Food Store.

In an effort to alleviate the former situation and stressing the latter one, Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry President Bill Groening, along with Chamber Officer Don Mar-ski have been taking a survey of the local businesses, finding out what they are doing to relieve both situations, whether they are staying open longer hours and advertising more etc.

According to Groening, the main purpose of their visits is to try and find out what the Chamber can do to help the merchants.

Groening claims that the best way for residents to help the merchants and the village is by doing their shopping locally.

Antioch has a wide based retail family whose wares are able to satisfy the needs of its residents.

The Chamber and the Antioch Village Board are urging Antioch residents to do the same thing that has had the Antioch News running a weekly banner for more than a year, the one that says SHOP ANTIOCH!

Committee refutes statements, facts of landfill operator

"Antioch's Coalition of Concerned Citizens (CCC), with the support of Antioch Village's Fact Finding Committee, has come out to 'set the record straight' about recently published statements made by representatives of Waste Management Inc., regarding the proposed Antioch dump site expansion," states Fred Johnson, a CCC spokesman.

"It seems," Johnson begins, "that Waste Management would have us believe that the present dump site has been owned and operated the same way for the past 30 years. In fact, when the site was first developed, it was primarily for local garbage."

"Not until 1974, when Waste Management took control, did the site become a regional facility that allegedly accepts waste products from as far away as Chicago and numerous Wisconsin communities and industries," he added.

According to Johnson, Waste Management claims that the proposed site will be operated the same as it was in the past.

"If that is true," says Johnson, "we can expect the dump to be much higher and much deeper than Waste Management's proposal."

Johnson adds that in 1974, the proposal was to dig into the earth to an elevation of 750 feet. According to recent findings, waste now (Continued on Page 9)

Name Zeman new ACHS cage mentor

The Antioch High School Board of Education approved the selection of Donald Zeman as varsity basketball coach for 1982-83 at their regular meeting, Thursday, April 15.

Zeman most recently has served as head sophomore coach for six years and prior to that was varsity assistant coach for three years.

In another move, the board approved the last day of student attendance as Friday, June 4, providing no additional emergency days are used.

The athletic budget for 1982-83 in the amount of $48,115, as submitted by Athletic Director Ward Lear, was approved. This is an increase of 6.7 percent over the current year's budget.

In anticipation of improved phone service at the school, ROLM of Illinois was selected to install an updated phone system.

The board also approved the purchase of four TRS 80 Model Three micro computers for a cooperative program with SEDOL. The cooperative effort will make available 10 computers for student use.

The contract to supply student towel service was awarded to National School Towel Service at an increase of only 20 cents over last year's cost of $10.30.

The FY83 application for gifted education, submitted by Director of Curriculum Gary Allen, was approved. The application is for programs in drama, U.S. history, physics, chemistry, ceramics, painting and drawing.

Allen also reported that due to an anticipated small decrease in enrollment, there will be a reduction of one and two-fifths teachers for the 1982-83 school year.

President Robert Lindbald reported all arrangements have been finalized for the annual Elementary/High School Board Dinner Meeting at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 22, in the high school cafeteria.

The final business included Board Member Frank Walsh, Jr., chairman of the board negotiating committee reporting on the two meetings with the certified staff and Board Member Charles Forster reported on the agenda for SEDOL Governing Board meeting to be held on Wednesday, June 2. ## Visually impaired learn from trip

On Dec. 16, high school students from the visually impaired program of the Special Education District of Lake County were involved in a field trip to the Marriott Lincolnshire Resort.

The event, which was organized by the children and their teachers, provided the students with many new experiences.

Since many of the students attend different schools throughout the county, the group began the day by getting to know one another and enjoying the swimming pool and sauna at the resort.

After enjoying a fine luncheon as well as a special dessert prepared especially for the group, the students attended the Neil Simon play, "They're Playing Our Song."

The experience helped to utilize the specific daily living skills they have been learning and all agreed that they thoroughly enjoyed every aspect of the day.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

EYE INJURIES

Eye injuries can happen to anyone. Thousands of people are injured every year through freak accidents, carelessness, or from exposures to hazards on the job.

If you wear glasses, good quality impact-resistant lenses will give you as much protection as possible. Your glasses should be checked often to make sure the lenses fit firmly in the frame and have not been scratched. Loose-fitting or damaged glasses increase the danger of eye injuries.

Anyone exposed to unusual hazards in his work should wear safety goggles or some other kind of protective eye shield. The danger may not be just from flying objects or chemical splashes. It can be from gases, vapors, and fumes, and just plain ordinary dust, if there's too much of it.

If you need safety eyewear it should be of the highest industrial quality to protect you from accidents.

You and your eyes deserve the best possible protection. Your optometrist can help you get it.

Editorial:

We all can help recover

Despite the untimely loss of two major supermarket outlets, Antioch still can boast of having the most complete shopping facilities of any community its size in this part of the nation. Householders literally can obtain all their shopping needs within the confines of the Antioch area.

The shock and dismay of losing two food giants — within hours — stunned our community. Shopping habits have been disrupted. The financial loss to local governmental bodies and the inconvenience abruptly heaped upon residents quickly became apparent.

When catastrophe strikes — and the loss of Jewel and A&P constitutes a calamity — it is natural for people to ask in their frustration, "Why us?" It also is natural for human beings to seek an object on which to vent their frustration. The Antioch News was a ready target and some persons chose to zero in on us over an off-the-cuff item in a commentary column. While the comment was innocent enough, the remark will ill timed. Tempers flared.

Fortunately, reason soon prevailed over emotion. Today the general attitude of concerned citizens reflects responsibility. What can be done to overcome adversity? That attitude is precisely what we would expect of reasonable persons and a mature community.

For a starter, the Antioch News suggests that leaders of local government, finance, business and property owners convene in the form of a blue ribbon action committee to marshal Antioch's resources and clear the air of the multitude of rumors and opinions about what's going to happen. We think these leaders should concern themselves not only with the loss of the supermarkets but also with the erosion of business apart from the A&P demise and the Jewel fire. For the first time in many years the downtown business district is dotted with "for rent" signs. That is not good.

Until the losses are restored, Antioch residents can help their community — and themselves — by shopping locally. As we mentioned at the outset, we still have a complete shopping district, the envy of a majority of communities, including a number of places to purchase food. The loss of two supermarkets didn't change that!

Letter To The Editor

SHOP IN TOWN

Editor:

I have been contacted by several businesses in town concerning articles in your paper. The articles I am referring to are about our Antioch paper advising consumers to purchase groceries in other towns.

Now, I can understand your wanting to report news, etc., however, I do feel the businesses in town have supported the paper through ad sales and I do not think you should "Bite the Hand that feeds you".

I would like to see the Antioch papers help us in this time of need. Specifically, make aware the other stores available to shop or visit some of these stores and get some ideas to increase business.

We are going to be hit very hard this year with the loss of sales tax revenue from the closing of the A&P and loss of Jewel.

Everything your paper does to help keep the consumers shopping in Antioch will help all of us, from the Parks and Recreation, to the streets we drive on.

Help support US. It may be rewarding to your paper also.

Antioch Chamber of Commerce

When I think about it

Things people say!

by GLORIA DAVIS

Although people are all individuals unto themselves, a little soul searching might reveal that most of us have similar reactions in certain life situations.

Some of our verbal reactions might easily put each and every one of us in a category that we have always reserved for "the other guy."

For instance, in dealing with the famed emotion that makes the world go 'round, how many of us have used these phrases?

"I've never felt like this before." "You're different from anyone I've ever met." "There were others but they meant nothing."

"I can't live without you." "This is more than just physical." "Of course I'll still respect you."

"I'll never do anything to hurt you." "I'll never lie to you." "We were made for each other."

According to an analysis of love made by the Atlantic Journal, if you have ever uttered six out of those 10 phrases, score yourself a dirty rat. If three out of five are familiar, consider yourself a normal sucker for love and if you've used fewer than that, you're either not human or you have bad breath.

Generation after generation of teenagers have not only thought that all parents were old fashioned but have also doubted that they ever passed through those trying pubic years.

How many of you, that are either between 12 and 20 or can vaguely remember those acned years, ever said: "But that was in the old days, things are different now;" or "You don't understand how things are;" or "Why do you always check up on me, don't you trust me?" or "I'm too old to be treated like a kid;" or "I have the right to..."?

If you admit to having said all five of these to your parents at one time or other, rate yourself an average, dumb, misguided teen.

If you admit to only two, your parents were 40 years old when they were born and if you say you never used any of them, you were 40 years old when you were born.

Parents, don't we all say ridiculous things, brought on by sheer kid-caused exasperation?

Mom, how many times have you said, "Wait till your father hears about this!"?

Dad, how often have you said, with raised voice, "because I said so!" or "Do as I say, not as I do!"?

And what about that famous foolish foepa, "My kid would never do that."

How about, "Now when I was your age (you know the old walking 10 miles to school barefoot in the snow routine.)"

Then there's, "This generation of kids is the worst ever, they'll never amount to anything!"

Mom and Dad, if you've said it all, give yourself an "F" in child psychology. If you own-up to using three of these phrases more than once, give yourself an "A" for aggravated exhaustion and if you claim none of these have passed your lips, you're a sterile orphan.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE.

The members of the Antioch Rotary Club tell me that the club will be giving several $500 per year scholarships to lucky graduating seniors from Antioch High School.

The only major criteria needed are acceptance to a four-year accredited college and a desire for the students to better themselves through education.

Applications for these scholarships are available at the high school guidance office.

Congrats to Walter Rybicki who was just made the new commander of the Antioch VFW Post 4551.

To those villagers that consider themselves "the in group." Have you received an invitation to one of "those" parties? If you have, you'll know the ones I mean. If you haven't some people would say your "out" not "in."

Oh for the days when subscription parties meant the selling of such mundane, non-fun and non-secretive things as Tupperware!

Well, to each his own.

Now that spring has finally reared its elusive head, one's thoughts turn to the birds and the bees, (oops there I go thinking about "those" parties again) and beautiful, beautiful spring flowers. Anyone who has ever witnessed the glory of the tulip festival in Holland, Mich., understands what real abundant floral beauty is.

I was just reminded of such an annual festival held much closer to home. One that, though not quite as colorful is just as lovely and much more fragrant.

The 53rd Lombard Lilac Festival will be held from May 1 through 16, featuring not only acres and acres of blooming lilacs but 50,000 tulips and many more spring blooms.

There's even a lilac parade, complete with a lilac queen.

There will be no lilacs to enjoy anywhere by next weekend so why not stick close to home and smell the delicious aroma of homemade pancakes cooking at the Antioch Community High School.

The sophomore class is sponsoring a pancake breakfast from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., on Sunday, April 25, at the Antioch Moose Lodge, on Main St.

Save some money by purchasing advance tickets, adults $3 and children, six to 12, $2.50.

Tickets at the door will cost $3.25 for adults and $2.75 for children.

All children under six can eat as much as Little Black Sambo for free.

TOOTH SPLINTING

Q: What is tooth splinting? What can it do for me?

A: That old saying — In unity there is strength — applies to teeth, too. Teeth must be strong to withstand biting forces (sometimes over 100 pounds) that are applied millions of times over a lifetime.

Unfortunately, gum disease can weaken the bone supporting the teeth, loosening them so that they can no longer bite properly. Sometimes the bone is normal but, because some teeth have been lost, those remaining must support the full biting force previously borne by the full complement of teeth.

Loose teeth which otherwise would be lost can be saved by tying (splinting) them together. They can be made much firmer together than they are alone, particularly if the teeth splinted extend around the curve of the dental arch.

Regardless of the particular method used, splinting teeth is a valuable tool in extending the life of weak teeth.

St. Peter election April 24, 25

The following candidates are seeking positions on St. Peter Board of Education. Two three-year positions will be filled. Voting will take place in Father Frawley Hall after all the Masses on Sunday, April 25 and also at the 5:30 p.m. Mass on Saturday, April 24.

All adult parishioners are eligible to vote. Parish rolls determine voter eligibility. Names appear in the order that petitions were filed.

PATRICIA KENYON, her husband, Ralph, and their five children came to Antioch nine years ago. The children have all since graduated from St. Peter School. Kenyon received her degree from St. Mary College, Notre Dame, Indiana, and now does substitute teaching in the area elementary schools.

She is active in fund raising projects. She is past secretary of the St. Peter Women's Club and is just completing her first term on St. Peter Board of Education.

Kenyon has been a pre-school CCD catechist for the past six years and has served as coordinator of the pre-school program for the past two years, as well.

BRUCE L. PAGNI resides in Antioch, with his wife, Joan and their two daughters. They have been parishioners of St. Peter's since 1971.

Bruce is a teacher at Waukegan West High School in the communications department. He teaches English and speech as well as directs the all-school musical play.

He was graduated from the University of Illinois, where he received both his Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees.

Pagni has been involved at St. Peter's as a lector-commentator at the 9:30 a.m. Mass, and a teacher for CCD.

TIMOTHY E. WELLS is a lifetime member of St. Peter Parish and a graduate of St. Peter School. Wells, his wife, Denise and their daughter are rural Antioch residents.

He is a graduate of Antioch High School and attended Northwood Institute in Midland, Mich.

Wells is employed by the village of Antioch as foreman of the water and wastewater department. He is a member of various water pollution control organizations and is a member of Antioch Moose Lodge 525.

LINDA PEDERSEN has been an Antioch resident for the past 22 years and a member of St. Peter Parish for 16 years. She and her husband, Dean, and their two children, live in rural Antioch.

Pedersen is an Antioch High School graduate and held the position of court clerk for four years at the Lake County Courthouse in Waukegan. She is a member of the St. Peter Volunteer Parent's Group.

The Election of St. Peter Board of Education members will take place after all the Masses on Sunday, April 25 and after the 5:30 p.m. Mass on April 24. All registered parishioners of St. Peter Parish are eligible to vote and should vote with sincere conscience for the spiritual advancement of the parish, part of which is the parish school.

Four people are seeking a position on St. Peter Board of Education. There are two, three year positions open. The view of the four candidates concerning their interests in our Parish School are as follows (names appear in the order that petitions were filed).

"Catholic education today should mean involvement for every member of the parish. The values instilled in the St. Peter student prepares the foundation for a concerned and caring adult. At St. Peter School, Johnnie can read, and Susie can add, but that is not all. The children learn through the guidance of a dedicated staff, to know themselves and their place in God's world. As a parishioner, parent of five St. Peter graduates, and a part time teacher, I know what "our" school and church have to offer. As a member of the school board, I hope to return in a small part what the Kenyon family has received," said Patricia Kenyon.

"The Board of Education needs to be a "sounding board" of community reaction and concern regarding the programs and policies of St. Peter School. The board should actively strive to improve the quality of instruction at St. Peter's in order to provide our children with the best possible education. Most importantly, the board needs to be supportive of the teachers and administrators who are most aware of the educational needs of the children. As a high school teacher, I believe I can be responsive to both the community and the teachers of St. Peter's. I will work to encourage programs that emphasize basic skills and religious and moral values, yet one that teaches these skills and values in a creative and innovative way. Too often teaching these skills become routine; and therefore, uninteresting to students. Students have a right to educational opportunities that challenge them to use their creative potentials. programs such as these will adequately prepare our students for higher learning and insure their success in the future," said Bruce L. Pagni.

"I would like to be a member of St. Peter Board of Education because I respect and value the high standards of education that the clergy, administration and faculty are striving to maintain. My school days were happy, fruitful ones. It is my hope and prayer that my daughter will also participate in and enjoy a fine Catholic education. Our children are our greatest investment. I aim to do all in my power to keep our parish school alive," said Timothy E. Wells.

"I have always been very concerned about our children's education, not only academic and religious, but the important values our children are taught through their years of education in our school. My goal would be to try and maintain these high standards and try to help make any improvements necessary.

CCC refutes

lies 32 feet deeper and consequently 32 feet closer to the area water supply.

"The past performance of their company is not what Waste Management would like us to believe," Johnson emphasizes. He said that locally, numerous complaints have been made by residents of Little Silver Lake subdivision about dump smell, noisy machinery, and rats.

Johnson reported that Waste Management, in fact, has been fined for operating without proper permits. As other Waste Management sites, flagrant violations of dump regulations and apparent total disregard for public welfare were cited in several news articles published during the last few years.

Johnson went on to say that the future of the dump site has been depicted by Waste Management as a grassy knoll that will be monitored for "ground seepage or other dangerous signs that will in any way have an adverse effect on the surrounding area."

Johnson claims that the fact is that the government requires that Waste Management monitor the site for only three years after it is filled. After that, it is up to the village to monitor the site at a minimum cost of $10,000 per year, virtually forever, according to the fact finding committee.

According to the CCC spokesman, if any leaks were discovered, there presently is no indication that Waste Management will be required to correct the problem or to make restitution to any persons whose health or property has suffered damage.

Waste Management has stated that, of the proposed 70 acre expansion, only 36 acres will be used for dumping. Authorities tell us that with additional permits, the site could be expanded to cover practically the entire 70 acres.

The people of Antioch have also been "assured" that Waste Management will be dumping the "same kind of garbage" that has been dumped at the site for years, Johnson notes.

He goes on to state that in the same breath, Waste Management has said that it is "against corporate policy" to allow outsiders to have access to the liquid waste (leachate) collected at the bottom of the site.

According to the Village Fact Finding Committee, knowing what is in the leachate is the only way of positively knowing what wastes are already in the site. It is also critical to know the leachate content for proper monitoring.

"We have to know what to look for if we are going to check to see if its leaking out," states a village official.

In a further statement, Waste Management claims that it has proof that real estate values in Little Silver Lake subdivision (an adjacent subdivision to the dump) have been unaffected by the dump and, indeed, have increased by 25 percent since 1974.

CCC's real estate consultant's preliminary findings indicate that area property values away from the dump site have increased by approximately 50 percent during the same period of time.

An Antioch realtor stated that his fears are that the dump's apparent negative effects on Little Silver Lake land values could spread to the outer limits of the township if the site is expanded.

Waste Management Vice President Tom Volini, stated that Antioch will benefit from potential industrial development of the site after it is completed. The CCC's investigation has concluded that the site wouldn't be ready for any kind of development for a minimum of 20 years.

Volini noted that some of Antioch's existing industry is built on filled sites, but he failed to state that his dump is probably twice as deep as former sites and that potentially high construction costs for the development of his site could make development uneconomical and perhaps even dangerous due to the long term settling of the ground as the waste beneath decomposes.

Volini also stated that his dump site land would be worth "hundreds of thousands of dollars" when it is turned over to the village and could create as many as "1100 jobs for the area."

"A local realtor noted," said Johnson, "that development of dump site land will be very unlikely when Antioch already enjoys areas of industrially zoned land where industry could develop, expand and flourish without the possible problems of locating over acres of unknown waste products."

Finally, Johnson emphasizes that CCC would like to take issue with Waste Management's statement about "the tail wagging the dog." CCC members feel that if Waste Management's attitude is that they are "the dog" while residents and taxpayers are "the tail," we can expect only the worst from the company.

The entire CCC membership would hope that every possible area of potential trouble will be closely examined by the county board members before a decision is made that will probably determine the future of Antioch and perhaps the entire northern Chain O' Lakes region.

CCC refutes

lies 32 feet deeper and consequently 32 feet closer to the area water supply.

"The past performance of their company is not what Waste Management would like us to believe," Johnson emphasizes. He said that locally, numerous complaints have been made by residents of Little Silver Lake subdivision about dump smell, noisy machinery, and rats.

Johnson reported that Waste Management, in fact, has been fined for operating without proper permits. As other Waste Management sites, flagrant violations of dump regulations and apparent total disregard for public welfare were cited in several news articles published during the last few years.

Johnson went on to say that the future of the dump site has been depicted by Waste Management as a grassy knoll that will be monitored for "ground seepage or other dangerous signs that will in any way have an adverse effect on the surrounding area."

Johnson claims that the fact is that the government requires that Waste Management monitor the site for only three years after it is filled. After that, it is up to the village to monitor the site at a minimum cost of $10,000 per year, virtually forever, according to the fact finding committee.

According to the CCC spokesman, if any leaks were discovered, there presently is no indication that Waste Management will be required to correct the problem or to make restitution to any persons whose health or property has suffered damage.

Waste Management has stated that, of the proposed 70 acre expansion, only 36 acres will be used for dumping. Authorities tell us that with additional permits, the site could be expanded to cover practically the entire 70 acres.

The people of Antioch have also been "assured" that Waste Management will be dumping the "same kind of garbage" that has been dumped at the site for years, Johnson notes.

He goes on to state that in the same breath, Waste Management has said that it is "against corporate policy" to allow outsiders to have access to the liquid waste (leachate) collected at the bottom of the site.

According to the Village Fact Finding Committee, knowing what is in the leachate is the only way of positively knowing what wastes are already in the site. It is also critical to know the leachate content for proper monitoring.

"We have to know what to look for if we are going to check to see if its leaking out," states a village official.

In a further statement, Waste Management claims that it has proof that real estate values in Little Silver Lake subdivision (an adjacent subdivision to the dump) have been unaffected by the dump and, indeed, have increased by 25 percent since 1974.

CCC's real estate consultant's preliminary findings indicate that area property values away from the dump site have increased by approximately 50 percent during the same period of time.

An Antioch realtor stated that his fears are that the dump's apparent negative effects on Little Silver Lake land values could spread to the outer limits of the township if the site is expanded.

Waste Management Vice President Tom Volini, stated that Antioch will benefit from potential industrial development of the site after it is completed. The CCC's investigation has concluded that the site wouldn't be ready for any kind of development for a minimum of 20 years.

Volini noted that some of Antioch's existing industry is built on filled sites, but he failed to state that his dump is probably twice as deep as former sites and that potentially high construction costs for the development of his site could make development uneconomical and perhaps even dangerous due to the long term settling of the ground as the waste beneath decomposes.

Volini also stated that his dump site land would be worth "hundreds of thousands of dollars" when it is turned over to the village and could create as many as "1100 jobs for the area."

"A local realtor noted," said Johnson, "that development of dump site land will be very unlikely when Antioch already enjoys areas of industrially zoned land where industry could develop, expand and flourish without the possible problems of locating over acres of unknown waste products."

Finally, Johnson emphasizes that CCC would like to take issue with Waste Management's statement about "the tail wagging the dog." CCC members feel that if Waste Management's attitude is that they are "the dog" while residents and taxpayers are "the tail", we can expect only the worst from the company.

The entire CCC membership would hope that every possible area of potential trouble will be closely examined by the county board members before a decision is made that will probably determine the future of Antioch and perhaps the entire northern Chain O' Lakes region.

Overall 3-1 record

Sequoits lose to Falcons

Antioch High School's varsity baseball team presently has a 3-1 overall record and a 1-0 conference record as they get their bats into full swing.

The Sequoits suffered their only loss to date as the Falcons of Central High School edged them, 4-3, on April 13, despite Steve Sheedlo's triple and Carl Amundsen's double.

But on April 14 they blanked Stevenson, 5-0, as Amundsen pitched a two-hitter. Vince Gawerecki had three hits in three times at bat, including a home run and two runs batted in. Sheedlo came through with another triple and John Silianoff had a double, bringing two home.

The Sequoit girls defeated Stevenson by a final score of 74-54.

Frosh win 14-2 hit Stevenson

The Antioch freshmen baseball team began its conference season by beating Stevenson High School, 14-2.

Antioch lead off the scoring with a run in the first inning on some heads up base running by Mike Dydo.

Stevenson came back to score their only earned run off a triple by Tim Soderstrom. In the end that turned out to be the only hit in the game for Stevenson.

Antioch scored three more runs in the second inning, two on a double off the red hot bat of Mike Grealis.

In the third inning Antioch scored three runs, again through some fine base stealing by Tony Gebauer, Brad Poulter and Bob Heath.

Randy Parker also added his bat with a timely sacrifice. In the fifth, the guns really opened up with hits by Tim Kube, Poulter, and RBI hits by Tim Prining.

Jeff Johnson gathered two RBI's also as his high pop-up into short left was difficult to handle and allowed two runs to score.

Stevenson gave up five runs to the Sequoits.

In the sixth, Kelly Geist lead off the inning by getting what's becoming his trademark, a hit.

Stealing three bases, including home, he scored the only run in the inning. Chris Tew's keen eye aided the Sequoits during the game as he was walked three times and scored two runs.

Jeff Johnson pitched four of the five innings, allowing only one hit and one earned run. He also struck out three batters and gave up only two walks.

Gebauer relieved him in the fifth and allowed no hits and only one walk.

TODAY THIS HOUSE IS JUST SMART. TOMORROW IT'LL BE BRILLIANT.

Nobody has to tell you what's happening to the cost of energy today. It's all up, up, up.

So if you're looking for a new house, it makes a whole lot of sense to look for one with an Energy Smart sign out front. One that uses energy like a miser. That keeps the cost down, down, down.

That means a house with double-glazed windows.

With ceilings insulated to a minimum rating of R-19.

With walls insulated to at least R-11.

With exterior openings carefully weather-stripped and caulked.

And with an Electric Heat Pump instead of a central air conditioner and furnace.

That's the key. The Heat Pump.

All summer long it works just like central air conditioning. But in the winter it reverses itself. It takes heat from the air outside and pumps it inside to keep you warm.

What's more, the Heat Pump does that so efficiently it provides at least 50 percent more energy (heat) than the energy (electricity) it uses.

And that's very, very smart when you consider that the cost of natural gas has gone up 52 percent faster than electricity since 1967, and oil has gone up 113 percent faster.

Better yet, it'll be downright brilliant when natural gas gets deregulated or OPEC bumps up the price of oil a few more times.

The Energy Smart house. It can make tomorrow a lot easier to live with.

Don't take tomorrow for granted.
